With cleared agricultural fields, growing timber, and great hunting, this farm offers income and recreation!

Located on Boyle Road near Lumber Bridge in Hoke County North Carolina, this farm offers income from agriculture and future income from pine timber. The farm is currently leased to a prominent local farmer and is well maintained. The pine timber will need thinning in the next few years. This would be a great farm to build your country home and have plenty of land to hunt deer, turkey, doves, and small game. A BioLogic food plot in the gas line right of way near the back of the farm would be a game magnet. This farm is located in a very rural area, yet still convenient to Raeford, Lumberton, Laurinburg, and Fayetteville.
